

CLARENCE B. “WILLIE” SHELLNUTT PROGRAM AWARD

Clarence B. “Willie” Shellnutt 1919-1970

BACKGROUND:

Clarence “Willie” Shellnutt was, for several years, Director of Recreation in Lebanon, New Hampshire. He then moved into Student Union work as Program Director at the University of Massachusetts where, despite a heavy work schedule, he also attended classes and earned his B.S. degree. He advanced to the Student Union at Boston University and then to the Union at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, New York, where he did an outstanding job as Director.

No member worked harder for the New Hampshire Recreation Society. “Willie” edited its first newsletter in 1954, was Society President in 1956-57. He initiated the first Governor’s Conference on Recreation when it resumed in 1969.

“Willie” was a dynamic leader who could infuse others with his enthusiasm. He used this quality, in addition to his talent for creating and directing interesting and innovative programs, to develop Lebanon’s recreation program into one of the finest in the state of New Hampshire.
